how to help

A gift to the Living Legacy Community Foundation is an opportunity to say thank you to the community and one sure way to benefit future generations.

There are many ways to leave a legacy in our community:

- A gift of money
- A bequest in a will
- A gift of life insurance
- A gift in memory of a relative or friend
- A gift in honour of a special event or individual
- A gift of real estate or property
- A multi-year pledge. You make an initial contribution and a commitment to add to the initial donation over a period of years.
- You leave your gift to the general charitable purposes of the Foundation or designate it to a particular field of interest.

All gifts qualify as deductions for income tax purposes.

history

In 1977 a bequest was left to the Russell Foundation for education to students from Major Pratt School. Over the years more donations increased the funds.

In 2005 The Living Legacy Community Foundation was established to enhance the Russell Foundation by increasing the area to encompass the Aseissippi Parkland Region. It actively sources new funds to support additional grant making opportunities.

The Living Legacy Community Foundation continues to grow. Gifts, donations, and individual endowment funds increases granting possibilities.

The Living Legacy Community Foundation is a registered charity. The foundation holds its capital in perpetuity, distributing only the interest income.

the community foundation

- Provides a wonderful chance for each of us to invest in our own community's future.
- Is permanent, yet flexible, as it can change to meet the evolving needs of our community.
- Invests the donation that is made, retains the principal and allocates the annual interest or investment income to worthy community projects.

You, as a donor, know that your contribution will continue to help others far into the future.
